

Friday Building Challenge

{ Can you handle the task?

You and your friend are out wondering in the woods and you get lost. As you wonder around the forest you come upon an amazing thing. It is in the middle of a clearing and it is very very BIG.

A SINKHOLE

I have an idea! We need to see what is at the bottom of the hole!

We can't just start climbing that's not safe and we don't know how deep it is?

Yes and then we get to use our InjaNation skills to get us in and out of this cage.

This is just a scenario not something I suggest. Leave the spelunking to professionals

& You and your friend are dedicated to seeing how deep the cave is and trying to get one of you down there to see what it looks like.

You begin taking notes on how to find your way back to this secret cave.
